PART II

A Guide to the Personal Papers of Private Individuals
ABRAHAM, Louis Arnold (1893— )
Principal Clerk of Committees, House of Commons, 1952–58.
A substantial collection of personal papers, mostly relating to his detailed research on parliamentary procedure, has been deposited in the House of Lords Record Office.

ABRAHAM, Major-General William Ernest Victor (1897—1980)
Commander, Upper Burma Battalion, Burma Auxiliary Force, 1932–37. Service in World War II in Greece, Middle East and Burma.
A microfilm of his papers is in the Cambridge Centre for South Asian Studies. The microfilm includes details of a tour made in Burma in March 1942 as liaison officer to General Alexander in Rangoon, various papers concerning the defence of Burma, India Budget papers 1943–44 and miscellaneous other Indian papers.

ABRAHAMS, Abraham (1898—1955)
The Jabotinsky Institute in Israel has acquired the papers.

ABRAMSKY, Chimen (1917— )
Goldsmid Professor of Hebrew and Jewish Studies, University College, London.
Professor Abramsky possesses some letters of importance to Harold Laski, relating to the Passfield White Paper of 1929, written to him by Arthur Henderson and other members of MacDonald's Cabinet as well as some minor letters relating to Hovevei Zion in the 1890s.

ADAM, Charles Fox Frederick (1852—1913)
Some of his papers survive among the Adam family correspondence and papers (NRA 9954). There is some personal correspondence and newspaper cuttings but only a little material relating to diplomatic affairs.

ADAMS, Sir Walter (1906—1975)
The papers, which are closed, have been deposited in BLPES, to whom enquiries should be addressed.

ADDIS, Sir Charles Stewart (1861—1945)
Since the entry in Sources, Vol. 5, p 2, the surviving papers have been placed in the Library of the School of Oriental and African Studies. The collection of diaries, letters and papers covers the period 1881–1945.
