1. Introduction

2. Understanding of customer value

3. Customer value approaches
   3.1 Perceived customer value (PCV)
      3.1.1 Product-oriented PCV
      3.1.2 Relationship-oriented PCV
   3.2 Desired customer value
   3.3 Research gaps and further issues

4. Relationships between customer value and other marketing constructs
   4.1 Relationships between quality, customer value, and customer satisfaction
   4.2 Relationships between customer value and customer behaviour
   4.3 Research gaps and further issues

---

1 Slightly updated version; original article was published in Journal für Betriebswirtschaft (2008), Vol. 58, No. 1, pp. 1-20. The Publication of the article in this book is permitted by the Springer publishing house.
5. Relationship between customer value and customer lifetime value
   5.1 CV-CLV approaches
   5.2 Research gaps and further issues

6. Outlook

References

Dr. oec. Albert Graf worked as a Research Associate and Project Manager at the Institute of Insurance Economics, University of St. Gallen and today holds a position as Head of Quality Management at Helvetia Insurance in St. Gallen, Switzerland. Prof. Dr. Peter Maas is a Professor of Business Administration and Service Management at the School of Management of the University of St. Gallen and Member of the Executive Board of the Institute of Insurance Economics (I-VW-HSG) at the same university.