A Silicone Foam Dressing Following Division of Syndactyly

N.S. Niranjan
Guys Hospital, Hospital for Sick Children, Great Ormond Street, London, UK

Fig. 1. X-ray film cut according to the size of the patient's hand

Fig. 2. Plastic coffee cup placed around the hand and the operated web kept wide apart

Fig. 3. Silicone foam set around the fingers

Fig. 4. Silicone foam secured with pink elastoplast

Fig. 5. Inspection of the graft on the 5th postoperative day

Fig. 6. Silicone foam dressing soaked in antiseptic Betadine solution

Fig. 7. The same foam dressing is re-used
Fig. 8, 9. Preoperative view of the right hand of a child with Apert’s Syndrome

Fig. 10–12. Postoperative view 2 weeks later