Recap of Third Conference on Financial Economics and Accounting

CHENG-FEW LEE
Rutgers University

The Third Conference on Financial Economics and Accounting was held at the Leonard N. Stern School of Business, in the Management Education Center of New York University on November 6 and 7, 1992. The result was outstanding. After only three years, this conference has already become one of the most prestigious academic conferences in finance and accounting both nationally and internationally. See the attached program for the details of the two-day event.

During this year's conference, we decided that six universities will host on a rotating basis. In 1993, the conference will be held at Washington University in St. Louis on October 1 and 2. In 1994 the conference will be at the University of Michigan; and the following year, 1995, the conference will be at the University of Maryland. In 1996, the conference will once again be hosted by Rutgers University.

For the next year, we have a 15 member executive committee to coordinate the program. The members are (alphabetically)

Lawrence D. Brown
Edwin Burmeister
Nicholas Dopuch
Philip Dybvig
Martin Gruber
Chi-Fu Huang
Bikki Jaggi
Frank C. Jen
E. Han Kim
Cheng-few Lee
Baruch Lev
George Oldfield
Joshua Ronen
Lemma Senbet
Robert E. Verrecchia

Cheng-few Lee, ex-officio, is a permanent member of this committee. The rest of the committee will be composed of people from these six universities as well as others.
Finally, I would like to express my appreciation to New York University, this year's host university, and especially to the program chairmen, Martin Gruber and Josua Ronen, and the program coordinators, John Bildersee and Aswath Damodaran. I would also like to thank the other committee members who made this year's program a big success.
